THE DOTHAN EAGLE

VOLUME 1. DOTHAN, ALABAMA SATURDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 11TH, 1909. NUMBER 200

THE INSIDE STORY.

To the Public

We wish to give to the people of Dothan a little information in regard to the little game recently explored

We have nothing to deny, as we are guilty, and we have paid our fines, but we do not believe that the Hon Mayor and Council men of Dothan have treated us fairly, keeping the one who organized this game letting the others go The one that now holds the place of chief turned us up after playing a good game and going broke

He must have decided that if he would turn evidence against us he might win a place in the hearts of the city officials This he seems to have succeeded in doing

Probably the city officials are to be commended in taking this action but if there is to be such great reform and such cleaning out, let the whole thing go and then we will be satisfied

Who is the guiltiest we or the one who after losting his money decided to turn us up and thus bring great reform about in the Dothan Fire Department or the one that paid their fines and walked out?

Woman's Friend

Nearly all women suffer at times from female ailments. Some women suffer more acutely and more constantly than others. But whether you have little pain or whether you suffer intensely, you should take Wine of Cardui and get relief.

Cardui is a safe, natural medicine, for women, prepared scientifically from harmless vegetable ingredients. It acts easily on the female organs and gives strength and tone to the whole system.

TAKE CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Verna Wallace, of Sanger, Tex, tried Cardui. She writes: "Cardui has done more for me than I can describe. Last spring I was taken with female inflammation and consulted a doctor, but to no avail, so I took Cardui, and inside of three days, I was able to do my housework. Since then my trouble has never returned." Try it.

Better go to church to morrow – no telling what might happen

We wish to see a joint debate some night after supper on the court house lawn The question of amendment or no amendment might be gone over in a safe and sane way, and the arguments would afford the crowd much amusement and some good such a discussion would bring out more people than a wedding

We haven t much faith in Peary He said he nailed the flag to the pole He never said what kind of nails he used, nor did he mention hammar or hatchet used He never said how high the pole was, and since he has misled us like that, we don t believe his story as readily as that of Cook Cook never lied about it that way It wouldn t surprise us if the government doesn t have to send them back and show us where they left it

DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO WITH IT

Peary wired the President that the north pole was at his disposal to which the President replied "I do not know exactly what I could do with it"

Taken so sudden like that, we suppose the President was excusable for saying that he didn t know what to do with the north pole That remark was calculated to throw ice cold water on the project

Had that been President Roosevelt answering such a telegram the answer would have read much different It would have been worded something like this

"Hold the north pole till my arrival Leaving at once with the American fleet Will have hole dug for pole on plot just south of Washington monument Thanks for your discovery—was just fixing to go after it myself Medal awaits you Roosevelt"

That kind of a message would have put some ginger in the enterprise It would have shown that the pole could have been put to some use

TOGETHER AT LAST

Since Houston county was formed there as never been a county campaign that found Mess Espy and Farmer on the same side There has never been a town election, where both entirely agreed on who was to be who so far as the public could tell They are now linked up together like good law partners Formerly their friends merely thought that one took the right hand road, and the other the left so as to meet any one coming to their mill with corn Mr Espy has always been forced to take the left hand road, for he had a knack of pleasing the people who traveled it, and by so doing, he has unwillingly acquired a reputation he doesn't deserve He allows people to go on believing him to be a rather worldly man, careless of the route, when in fact he is not He has been routed off the religious and moral questions making room for his partner, when he would like to stand there himself, if it meant the same

Now that both of these leading criminal lawyers have drawn tickets passing them over the same road, their old acquaintances are taking notice of it and comment ing on the strange turn affairs have taken In other campaigns it was thought safe between them for each to pick a candidate That might have been in battles the results of which made but little difference, but not so here It is thought necessary that both get out and do all they can to carry their cause to victory

The amendment side ought to feel encouraged

SHE GOT BIT

Princess Rajah a vaudeville star and snake charmer was bitten three times the other night by one of her snakes This was not part of the program and those present were not charged extra for witnessing an act that the world has been hoping to see for generations a snake turn on the [illegible] charmer and show the snake [illegible] him Just why it is that people will pay good money to see a [illegible] vaudeville belle wrap fifteen or twenty feet of cold clammy snake around her neck is more than we have ever been able to find out We have never seen a crowd that seemed to enjoy watching such a performance but the show folks have had an idea for years that this kind of an act was a drawing card

Princess Rajah may not die and we rather hope that she won t but we hope that she will have stage fright every time she sees a snake after this and jump off the stage the back way like a drove of mice were after her

AND HE WAS A FAILURE

"You may all quit work Mr Harriman is dead

That was the simple statement to the crew of men at work on Mr Harriman's estate, shortly after the financier passed out

That message flashed over the wires, past thousands of railroad men from the Atlantic to the Pacific, made every man, from the various department chiefs down to the trackwalkers realize that the great must die

Mr Harriman has been a failure to himself To the world he has been a successful man, but he knew during his latter years that he had cheated himself out of all the good things of life He knew that he had paid too much for what he got and that whereas the world considered him a success he knew of the miserable failure

It is hard to measure happiness by the world's yardstick

It would be interesting to hear an inside story from Mr Harriman own told from his heart about how a man should live to get the most out of life

The fact that he controlled railroad that opened up and developed towns and cities, and furnished quick transportation for the many crops from east to west, and furnished employment for thousands of people doesn t carry that he has been a successful man

It might be that his boys have heard him talk on the subject but the world has known but few things Harriman has said He was a silent man

He might not have been an unhappy man, but he certainly was not a very happy one He evidently died knowing that he had failed with himself, that he had sacrificed health his nerves, his peace of mind, for money he cannot take with him

His heirs and assigns will not worry out their lives trying to keep the Harriman properties together They may not keep them paying diviends, but they will roll the property for a good time, likely.

ANOTHER FLOWER FADES

Hon B G Farmer, Superintendant of the Baptist Sunday Schools at Dothan has resigned in order to give him full power to fight against constitutional prohibition

Why do these people insist on getting out of the church because they are opposed to constitutional prohibition?

Mr Farmer knows He may not say but he knows why Mr Farmer knows that the church has oppose whiskey He knows that a man must make a choice, he knows there is no half way ground He must be for or against [illegible] as the prohibition question is a moral question and as the [illegible] believe that the sale of whiskey is immoral thus those [illegible] the church [illegible] to try to stay in the church and at the same time [illegible] the constitutional amendment

The opponents of the amendment seem to have an only [illegible] for the surrender of [illegible] that the state [illegible] of the incorporation of an anti whiskey clause into it will [illegible] the purity of that document Well! Let's suppose! We will suppose that the legislature had passed a law granting the people the right to vote for or against an amendment incorporating a local option law into the constitution would any of this great howl have gone up?

No Why? Because the whiskey men would have been on the [illegible] and the amendment would have been adopted without one word of protest from them Mr Farmer knows this because he is a sensible man We do not object to his position we rather admire a man for an honest expression of his views Mr Farmer could not have better defined himself than by retiring from the church before he openly expressed his [illegible] for whiskey because he knew full well that the church would not tolerate him if he opposed the very principle upon which all true religion is founded—opposition to evil in its every form

Whiskey is one of the great evils to which the church is opposed and but for the indirect tolerance of whiskey in the past by the [illegible] the [illegible] would [illegible] the children of men The [illegible] now have waked up to the [illegible] of the [illegible] of [illegible] Mr [illegible] If [illegible] Mr Farmer [illegible] sensible not to know this and thus Mr Farmer s resignation

The fight is on dear people Are you for or against whiskey It's a serious question but you must make up your mind There is no middle round there is no evading the issue It s whiskey or no whiskey Let us be plain We are AGAINST whiskey Where is Mr Farmer?

—Florala News

Before the amendment campaign is over we would like to be allowed the liberty to call the names of some people who are living in Dothan and Houston county whose love for whiskey has ended a career that might be termed brilliant We may do this anyway

J T Newman left last night for Slocomb where he goes to become cashier of the First National Bank of that place He has been employed here as bookkeeper at the Dothan National Bank for some time and has a numbr of friends who regret to see him leave

Tired, so tired!
The weary days drag on,
The morning comes, hope rises
When evening falls 'tis dead
And I am tired

Tired of the endless striving,
Tired of hope deferred
Tired of pain and suffering—
Tired so tired of it all!
